How We Will Calculate Your Balance: We use a method called "average daily balance (including new purchases)".

How We Will Calculate Your Variable APRs:

- Unless an introductory or promotional APR is in effect, we will add a "Margin" to the U.S. Prime Rate to determine your standard variable APR. For each billing period we will use the U.S. Prime Rate, or the average of the U.S. Prime Rates if there is more than one, published in the Money Rates column of The Wall Street Journal three business days prior to your billing statement closing date. If the U.S. Prime Rate is not published or is otherwise unavailable, whether temporarily or permanently, we will select a substitute index that we believe, in our sole discretion, to be similar to the U.S. Prime Rate. Currently, the U.S. Prime Rate is 3.25 percentage points.
- The "Margin" for purchases and balance transfers will be 10.74 to 18.74 percentage points, based on your creditworthiness.
- The "Margin" for cash advances and overdraft protection advances will be 20.74 percentage points.

Wells Fargo reserves the right to change terms, rates (APRs) and fees, at its discretion in accordance with the Consumer Credit Card Customer Agreement and Disclosures Statement ("Agreement") for your account and applicable law.

You may not qualify for the lowest APRs disclosed above. The APRs applicable to your account will be determined by our review of your credit report, information you provide on your application, and other relevant information available to us.

Application of Payments: Generally, we will apply your minimum payment first to lower APR balances (such as Purchases) before balances with higher APRs (such as Cash Advances). Payments made in excess of the minimum payment will generally be applied to balances with higher APRs first before balances with lower ones.

Overdraft Protection: If you choose to link your Account to your checking account for overdraft protection, please note the following. If you have a joint checking account, you will be responsible for all advances, including interest and charges, from your credit card to cover overdrafts regardless of who writes the check, makes a debit card purchase, or engages in any other transaction that causes the overdraft. An overdraft fee will be charged each day an Overdraft Protection Advance is made and interest will accrue from the date each advance is made. See Consumer Credit Card Customer Agreement and Disclosure Statement for details. Please note that you may also be able to link your checking account to your savings account for overdraft protection. No interest is charged on overdraft protection transfers from your savings account. However, fees do apply. See your savings account Consumer Account Fee and Information Schedule for details.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT PROCEDURES FOR OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT: To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, U.S. Federal law requires financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person (individual or business) who opens an account. What this means for you: when you open an account, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth and other information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask for your driver's license or other identifying information.

Notice to Ohio Residents:

The Ohio laws against discrimination require that all creditors make credit equally available to all creditworthy customers, and that credit reporting agencies maintain separate credit histories on each individual upon request. The Ohio Civil Rights Commission administers compliance with this law.

Notice to Married Wisconsin Residents:

If you are married, by submitting your credit card application you are confirming that this credit card obligation is being incurred in the interest of your marriage and your family. No provision of any marital property agreement (pre-marital agreement), unilateral statement under 766.59 of the Wisconsin Statutes, or a court decree under 766.70 adversely affects the interest of the creditor unless the creditor, prior to the time the credit is granted, is furnished a copy of the agreement, statement or decrees or has actual knowledge of the adverse provision. If the credit card for which you are applying is granted, you will notify the Bank if you have a spouse who needs to receive notification that credit has been extended to you.

Airline Benefit: Your Account will be eligible to receive credit totaling up to $100 per year for domestic or international airline transactions that constitute Qualifying Charges (the "Airline Benefit"). Your Account is eligible for one Airline Benefit, regardless of the number of Cards or users on the Account. For purposes of this benefit, a year will be measured from the date the account is open ("Account anniversary year"). The benefit will renew on the anniversary date of the Account each subsequent year.

- "Qualifying Charge/s" for purposes of the Airline Benefit, are defined as domestic or international airline transactions (excluding purchases of airline tickets) made with a Card for which the airline has submitted the transaction under the merchant code for American Express in the category of airlines and air carriers. Purchases made at retailers or airlines that do not process transactions using these codes for American Express will not qualify for credits. We do not have the ability to control how a retailer or airline chooses to classify their business and therefore reserve the right to determine which purchases are Qualifying Charges. Returns or credits applied to your Account, such as returned or disputed purchases, may reduce or eliminate credits already earned.
- Statement Credits: Until the yearly Airline Benefit is exhausted, a credit for Qualifying Charges will be applied automatically to your statement for any transaction equal to or less than $100. Please allow 5-20 days after the Qualifying Charges are posted to your Account for statement credit(s) to be posted to the Account. You remain responsible for timely payment of all charges on the Account. For Qualifying Charges that exceed $100, credits will not be applied automatically. However, you will have 90 days from the date each Qualifying Charge posts to the statement to request a manual adjustment of any Qualifying Charges not automatically credited. Please call the number on the back of the Card to request that credits be applied if the Qualifying Charge transaction totaled more than $100 or if statement credits have not posted after 20 days from the date of the Qualifying Charge. All Qualifying Charges must be posted to the Account during the Account anniversary year in order to be credited for the benefit. Any unused amount in the Airline Benefit will be forfeited on the day before the Account anniversary date each year or on the date the Account is closed, if the Account is closed before the end of the Account anniversary year. To be eligible for a statement credit, the Account must be open and in good standing at the time the qualifying charges post to the Account.
- Taxability: We will report the Airline Benefit as income to the Internal Revenue Service, state, and local tax authorities if required by applicable law. It is your responsibility to pay any federal, state or local tax liability, or other fees or gratuities, connected with use of this Airline Benefit. If you have any questions about your tax liability, please consult your tax advisor.
- Benefit Changes or Discontinuation: We reserve the right to change or discontinue the Airline Benefit at any time.

You also acknowledge that You will be required to consent to certain agreements for online functionality. You agree to these Terms by using the Program.
3. An Earning Mechanism will earn "Points", "Cash Rewards" or "Rebates" (collectively and each a "Rewards Currency"). A Wells Fargo Rewards Program account ("Rewards Account") will be automatically opened for You. A Rewards Account holds, calculates and accumulates Rewards Currency, and will have at least one Earning Mechanism assigned to it. A Rebate Earning Mechanism will display as "Cash Rewards" in Your Rewards Account. You can earn Rewards Currency in a variety of ways, including purchases made with an Earning Mechanism at qualifying merchants or in connection with other promotions or offers. Any such promotion(s) or offer(s) may have specific terms and conditions that will be disclosed at the time of the promotion or offer.
4. You will earn one Point for every $1 spent in Net Purchases (purchases minus returns and credits) made on Your credit card account, rounded to the nearest whole dollar. For purchases made at retailers whose merchant category code ("MCC") for American Express is classified in the airlines and air carriers category (MCC 4511), You will earn two bonus Points (for a total of three Points) for every $1 spent in Net Purchases made on Your credit card account, rounded to the nearest whole dollar (charter flights and private jet flights are not considered airlines and air carriers). For purchases made at retailers whose MCC for American Express is classified in the lodging hotels, motels, and resorts category (MCC 7011), You will earn one bonus Point (for a total of two Points) for every $1 spent in Net Purchases made on Your credit card account, rounded to the nearest whole dollar (timeshares, recreation camps, and campgrounds are not considered lodging hotels, motels, and resorts). We will give You advance written notice of material changes. You can find the most current Program Terms and Conditions at MyWellsFargoRewards.com or by calling the Wells Fargo Rewards Service Center at 1-877-517-1358.
