

Privacy Notice for EU Business Customers

This Notice applies to the European Union (EU)

Effective: 1 May 2018

Part 1. Introduction

What is this document and why should you read it?

Wells Fargo provides this privacy notice ("Notice"), as data controller, to describe our practices regarding the collection, storage, use, disclosure and other processing of Personal Data (defined below). Wells Fargo may process your Personal Data in a variety of situations. These include when you or your organization have a relationship with a Wells Fargo entity ("Wells Fargo"). As described below, other examples in which we may process your Personal Data are in the context of providing financial products and carrying out investment, treasury management, payment, and other financial services.

If you or your organization has a relationship or shares Personal Data with a Wells Fargo entity located in the U.S. or a country or jurisdiction outside the EU, a different privacy notice describes that entity's practices and will guide its information collection and processing activities. The privacy notices for those Wells Fargo entities are available at www.wellsfargo.com/privacy-security.

What types of Personal Data do we collect?

Wells Fargo collects different types of Personal Data. Outside the United States, we primarily have relationships and accounts only with corporations and other legal entities. However, we may collect information about individual representatives of our customer organizations ("Customers") or other individuals who have a connection to our Customers or the services we are performing (collectively, "Individuals") such as the Individual's:

- Work contact details: name, work address, phone number, mobile phone number, email address, and online contact details.
- Position description: employer, title, position held, and length of employment.
- Authentication data: passport or national identification card, driver's license, other governmental identification information, home address and telephone number, documents that verify address, date of birth, country of domicile, and documents that verify employment, and signature authorization.
- Customer access or use data: user name and passwords to log into a customer portal, location data, other website or product access information, and use of corporate credit card.
- Financial data: salary and other income, sources of wealth, assets, financial relationships, and financial transactions.
- Background or credit check data: credit check information, background check information including credit and criminal checks and screening, but only to the extent required or permitted by local law.

Collectively, the above categories of data constitute "Personal Data." We may collect, to the extent permitted by applicable law, Personal Data directly from Individuals, Customers, private lists, and publicly available sources. Failure to provide this information may result in Wells Fargo being unable to provide or continue to provide the requested services to the Customer.

Who are we?

Wells Fargo is one of the largest financial institutions in the world, and we operate globally. As described in Part 2 below, in order to carry out our business operations we need to collect, process, and use Personal Data of Individuals and Customers every day.

Name of group parent: Wells Fargo & Company
Headquarters location: 420 Montgomery Street; San Francisco, CA 94104 USA

Contact information for our EMEA Data Privacy Officer is listed in Part 3 below.

Part 2. Our handling of Personal Data

Why do we collect and use Personal Data?

Wells Fargo needs to collect, process and use Personal Data for a number of purposes. A primary purpose is to ensure we can provide Customers with the products and services we offer and which they have requested. As described in greater detail below, we also need to use Personal Data for purposes of carrying out our business operations, including confirming a person's authority as a representative or agent of a Customer, maintaining business continuity plans and processes, undertaking internal investigations and audits, handling legal claims, responding to requests from supervisory authorities, and complying with applicable laws and regulations on a global basis.

We collect, process and use Personal Data:

- To provide products and services requested by our Customers. We collect and use work contact details, position description, authentication data, customer access or use data, financial data, and background or credit check data to perform obligations under our agreements, carry out related business functions, process data and transactions, perform commercial banking services (including deposit taking and account management), conduct credit checks and due diligence, market products and services, provide investment banking and financial services, and manage Customer relationships and inquires, including when we need to contact Customers or Individuals with important information or for other administrative purposes.
- To comply with legal obligations and regulations. We collect and use work contact details, position description, authentication data, financial data, and background or credit check data to comply with applicable laws, regulations, and legal obligations applicable to Wells Fargo and its Affiliated Entities (defined below) in the United States and in other countries, including "know your customer" obligations based on applicable anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism requirements, financial crime and fraud prevention, suspicious activity reporting, responding to requests from public authorities, complying with economic and trade sanction requirements, performing Customer and Individual due diligence, performing audit and risk assessments, conducting foreign exchange and international trade, preparing tax reports, complying with whistleblowing requirements, and handling legal claims.

- To confirm a person's authority as a representative or agent of a Customer. We collect and use work contact details, position description, customer access or use data, and authentication data to confirm a person's authority as a representative or agent of a Customer with which Wells Fargo or its Affiliated Entities have entered or intend to enter into various arrangements, including deposit contracts, loan contracts, contracts for foreign exchange transactions, contracts involving derivative transactions, letters of credit, loan services, account management, commercial banking, commercial real estate, structured lending, corporate and investment banking services, credit card issuance and processing, financial services, and investment management.
- To conduct recordkeeping. We collect and use work contact details, position description, authentication data, customer access or use data, financial data, and background or credit check data to facilitate managing our records in a systematic manner so they can be retrieved when required for legal, regulatory or operational reasons.

Do we transfer Personal Data to different countries?

Wells Fargo operates across the globe, and we may transfer Personal Data to Wells Fargo entities located in countries other than the country where a Customer opened its account or maintains its relationship with us. This can also happen when we engage third parties to assist us with certain operations and activities, as they also may be established in different countries, including countries located outside the EU.

We have put in place measures to enable the transfer of Personal Data to another country in accordance with applicable law regardless of the global location of our entities. These measures enable us to transfer and use Personal Data in a secure manner anywhere in the world where we have an establishment, or where we have contracted third parties to provide us with services. The countries where we have operations are shown on this map at www.wellsfargo.com/com/international/locations. We may also transfer Personal Data to other countries where our third party service providers are located.

Who do we disclose Personal Data to?

We may disclose Personal Data, to the extent necessary and on a need-to-know basis, as follows.

- Affiliated Entities. Wells Fargo has affiliated entities and subsidiaries operating in the United States and around the world, including the group parent in the United States, Wells Fargo & Company, and Wells Fargo Bank, N.A. See Exhibit 21 to the most recent Form 10-K we filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission at www.sec.gov/Archives/edgar/data/72971/000007297118000272/wfc-12312017xex21.htm for a list of select affiliated entities and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2017 ("Affiliated Entities"); (the "Wells Fargo Group" means Wells Fargo and our Affiliated Entities). Wells Fargo may disclose Personal Data to our Affiliated Entities on a worldwide basis and our affiliates may use the data for the purposes described above to the extent permitted by applicable law.

- Beneficiaries, counterparties, and other parties related to a transaction; credit reference agencies. The Wells Fargo Group may disclose Personal Data to beneficiaries, counterparties, or other parties related to a transaction on a worldwide basis to provide the services requested by our Customers and to comply with legal obligations and regulations. We may provide Personal Data to credit reference agencies where allowed by law.
- Service providers. The Wells Fargo Group may disclose Personal Data to information technology providers or other service providers around the world that act on our behalf and under our instructions regarding the processing of such data ("Data Processors"). Data Processors will be subject to contractual obligations to implement appropriate technical and organizational security measures to safeguard the Personal Data, and to process Personal Data only as instructed. The Wells Fargo Group may also disclose Personal Data to independent external auditors or other service providers around the world that may not be acting as a Data Processor. These service providers will be subject to any necessary contractual obligations to ensure the protection of such Personal Data.
- Legal requirements. The Wells Fargo Group may disclose Personal Data if required or permitted by applicable law or regulation, including laws and regulations of the United States and other countries, or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) comply with a legal obligation or in response to a request from law enforcement or other public authorities wherever the Wells Fargo Group may do business; (b) protect and defend the rights or property of any Wells Fargo Group entity; (c) act in urgent circumstances to protect the personal safety of Individuals, Customers, and contractors/employees of any Wells Fargo Group entity or others; or (d) protect against any legal liability. In addition, the Wells Fargo Group may share Personal Data with U.S. regulators, and other self-regulatory bodies to which we are subject, wherever the Wells Fargo Group may do business.
- Business transfers, combinations and related activities. As we develop our business, the Wells Fargo Group might sell, buy, restructure or reorganize businesses or assets. In the event of any actual or proposed sale, merger, reorganization, restructuring, dissolution or any similar event involving our business or assets, Personal Data may be shared with the relevant entity or may be part of the transferred assets and will be subject to any necessary contractual obligations to ensure the protection of such Personal Data.

The recipients of Personal Data identified above may be located in the United States or in other countries, including countries located outside the EU, that may not provide the same level of data protection as your home country. As needed, we will establish appropriate data transfer agreements with such recipients, including agreements based on EU Model Contractual Clauses with respect to Personal Data transferred from the EU to a third country, or otherwise provide appropriate safeguards regarding transfers of Personal Data to other countries. Please contact the EMEA Data Privacy Officer using the contact information in Section 2 to obtain additional information about these safeguards.

How do we keep your Personal Data safe?

Personal Data will be safely stored in the databases of Wells Fargo and will be held and maintained by Wells Fargo or on behalf of Wells Fargo by Wells Fargo service providers. Appropriate measures are taken so that Personal Data can be kept accurate and up-to-date, which will be in accordance with applicable security requirements. In an effort to prevent the loss, misuse, unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration or destruction of Personal Data, we will take appropriate legal, organizational and technical measures to protect Personal Data and ensure it is accessed by our team members only on a need-to-know basis.

We will keep Personal Data no longer than necessary to fulfil the purposes described in this Notice. Under our record retention policy, we are required to destroy Personal Data after we no longer need it according to specific retention periods. However, we may need to hold Personal Data beyond these retention periods due to regulatory requirements of a particular country or in response to a regulatory audit, investigation or other legal matter. These requirements also apply to our third party service providers.

While registering with our website, mobile applications, or social media features (each, a "Site"), we may provide you with a unique identification and password for accessing our products and services. We encourage you to choose your password wisely such that no intruder or third party can obtain any unauthorized access to the Site. We also encourage you to keep your password confidential and not have any written or other record of the password that can be accessible by an intruder or third party.

Part 3. Your Rights in Relation to Personal Data

What are your rights?

Laws in the EU enable you to have appropriate control and oversight over what organizations do with your Personal Data. This Notice provides you with details about your Personal Data rights. If you have questions about your Personal Data rights, or whether different local laws apply, please contact the EMEA Data Privacy Officer using the contact information below.

You have the following rights in relation to your Personal Data:

- Access: you can ask us for a description of the Personal Data we hold about you and our purposes for holding it; you can also ask for a paper or electronic copy of this information.
- Rectification: you can ask us to correct your Personal Data if you see that it is inaccurate or incomplete.
- Objection: you can object to our processing of your Personal Data where we base such processing on our legitimate interests or, if applicable, on public interests or where we act under an official authority. You can also object if we use your Personal Data for direct marketing purposes.
- Erasure: you can ask us to destroy your Personal Data if you believe we no longer need it or we are inappropriately using it, or if you withdraw your consent. You can also ask for the destruction after you object to our use of your Personal Data or for compliance with a legal obligation.
- Restriction of processing: you can ask us to temporarily stop using your Personal Data when you contest its accuracy, when you believe our use is unlawful, or when you wish us to keep but not use your Personal Data beyond our time limit for storage for the purpose of a legal claim you've made or plan to make. You can also ask us to temporarily stop using your Personal Data during the period we are processing your objection request.
- Data portability: you have the right to receive Personal Data you have provided to us in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format. You also have the right to request that we transmit your Personal Data directly to another party if technically feasible. This right only relates to Personal Data which we process based on your consent, or on a contract you have with us, and where we carry out the processing by automated means.

- Complaint with a supervisory authority: you have the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority in the European Union.

In certain circumstances, we will need to use your Personal Data even though you may have asked us to delete it or restrict our use of it, or when you objected to our use. If this is necessary, we will do so in a lawful, fair, and transparent manner. Please contact the Data Privacy Officer for your region if you have any questions.

How can you revoke consent to use your Personal Data?

To the extent that consent is required by applicable law and our collection, use, disclosure or other processing of Personal Data is not otherwise permitted by applicable law, by providing Personal Data to the Wells Fargo Group or authorizing the Customer to provide such information to us, you consent to the collection, use, disclosure (including cross-border transfers to third countries), and other processing of Personal Data as described in this Notice. You expressly waive the bank secrecy or confidentiality laws and obligations, if any, of the country or countries where you and any Customer accounts are located but only to the extent permitted by applicable law.

You may revoke consent at any time by notifying the EMEA Data Privacy Officer listed below. Prior uses and disclosures will not be affected (unless required by applicable law), and we may otherwise continue to process Personal Data as permitted or required by law.

How can you stop Wells Fargo from sending marketing materials to you?

We will only send you marketing and sales materials where, to the extent required by applicable law, you have consented to receive such materials. If you do not want to receive marketing and sales materials from Wells Fargo by direct mail, telephone or email, please follow the unsubscribe or opt-out instructions provided in those communications or submit a written request to the EMEA Data Privacy Officer using the address shown below. You can also contact the EMEA Data Privacy Officer to exercise your right to object to the receipt of these communications. We will comply with any such request within a reasonable period of time after receiving it.

How can you exercise your rights?

At Wells Fargo, we have team members who are dedicated to responding to requests in relation to your Personal Data, and to help you with any other questions that you may have. Please contact the EMEA Data Privacy Officer using the contact information below:
