

Request for forbearance

Private loans – Internship/Residency or Fellowship

Note: Not all Wells Fargo private student loans are eligible for forbearance. Please contact us at 1-800-658-3567 to verify eligibility.

Forbearance allows you to temporarily stop making payments on your account; however, interest continues to accrue on your loan(s). You remain responsible for repaying this accrued interest, which you can do either by paying interest as it accrues or by having it added to the principal balance of your loan. Amounts paid during the forbearance period will be credited toward your accrued unpaid interest and any remaining amounts will be applied to unpaid principal. When your forbearance ends, any unpaid interest is added to the principal balance of your loan(s).

Please carefully read this entire form before you begin completing it. You must include all the information in Sections 1 and 3, and have Section 2 completed by an authorized official before you return this form to our office. Remember, you must continue making monthly payments until you have been notified that the forbearance is approved. Please initial any changes you make.
